Why choose Ecovillage?

"We are proud to have such a virtuous example of bio-architecture on our territory. Ecovillage is, in all its forms, the demonstration that with commitment and technical skills you can really change the way you build. And to increase the social value of the district under construction in Montale, there is also the A class nursery school project, which reinforces the potential of public-private collaboration, under the banner of sustainability. "

Ecovillaggio is a residential district that combines living in a villa with the culture of bio-architecture, combining respect for the environment with personal wellness.
